THE NEW UNIVERSITY COOPERATIVE Reclaiming Higher Education A Discussion And Speaker Series

This fall 2008 join academics, students and professors from across the country for an exciting speaker series on the nature of higher education in Canada. Is post-secondary education fueling environmental degradation and social inequality? Are we limiting who can attend university based on their financial ability?

For those concerned about the increasing corporatization, increasing emphasis on careers, and spiraling costs of our universities and colleges, Reclaiming Higher Education, seeks to address the role of university in society given issues such as climate change, biodiversity loss, and social inequalities.
